The first is a Photo Workshop led by Alan James from 6th—13th September 2005. You can gain tips from Alan and during the course of the week you will build up a portfolio of work to submit for an in-house competition held at the end of the week.

Immediately afterwards we are holding the second International Photographic Competition from 13th—20th September 2005. Below are two of this year's entries from Trevor Rees. Media coverage was by Sport-Diver and you will be able to read up on this event later in the year. Egidio Trainito the renowned writer and journalist who has published numerous guides to diving in Sardinia and the Mediterranean introduced his latest guide at this year's event and was on the Judges Panel. Will Postlethwaite journalist, dive photographer and instructor was nominated onto the Panel by SportDiver and Matt Fagg editor of Total Digital Photography Magazine represented Archant.
